

Re: Gluteus Maximus

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.agriculture.poultry/2004-08/0454.html>

From: Vicar Peter Parsnip (go_at_fish)

Date: 08/16/04

Date: 16 Aug 2004 09:32:05 +0100

Be still! and revere Gluteus Maximus, who blessed us with their presence on 16 Aug 2004...

> On Mon, 16 Aug 2004 09:31:32 +1000, "Helen" <abc@efg.com.au> wrote:

>

>>Enjoy your posts

>

> Why thank you. There are many who feel the same about wildlife, we just get to see a very vocal minority of kooks who brag about killing.

>

>> – its good to see posts by people who care for animals – in particular those creatures who are not the "warm and cuddly" kind– such as fish, lobsters etc. They rarely get a mention; but have feelings just as much as the cute animals.

>>

>

> Not to mention the incy wincy spiders and bugs. Why kill and destroy anything when you don't need to?

>

> Like eating meat, it's something we have all been condition to accept without thinking, killing slugs, snails, spiders, foxes, deer. All completely unnecessary as many of us with gardens can testify.

>

> Better for us, the environment and wildlife.

>

> All animals have feelings. Nothing wants to die and why should it.

>

> We should all stand up and be counted.

Post of the Day!

--

The Reverend Parson Peter Parsnip

VISIT ME ONLINE AT: <http://peterparsnip.blogspot.com/>

"Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die." -- Proverbs 23:13 (AV)