

Re: Vaccination and confinement in Europe? how are you all doing

Re: Vaccination and confinement in Europe? how are you all doing

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.agriculture.poultry/2006-04/msg00038.html>

- From: "xinixx" <jandenhollander@xxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: 18 Apr 2006 12:24:15 -0700
-

Hi there

i speak for my self but mine birds are fine.I even think of making a permanent cover over the coop/pen for it is much cleaner, now the groundfloor can'tget wet anymore.

I don't think vaccinating my birds. their is no guarantee they will be killed too in case of an outbreak, it's much too expensive for us owing just a limited number of birds. I'm not aloud to give away eggs to neighbours when my birds are vaccinated. Its not alloud to go to poultryshows with vaccinated birds. When i vaccinate today my birds have to keep inside several weeks non vaccinated birds are aloud outdoors again on 1 may

.