Mary is making ALL kinds of assertions and misrepresentations.

Review her posts in this thread – I just have.

She has not suggested any of the things you have accused her or the rest of us of.

It was, potentially, a reasonable conversation. It started with Mary in agreement with you, and Peter making a wry comment about guns in each room. Nowhere was there an attack on you or yours. That has all come from you. Its a good thing that you are probably not as over-reactive in real life as you are here, otherwise it would be uncomfortable to envisage so many guns within reach of such volatility.
