

Re: coconuts & oysters

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.anthropology.paleo/2004-07/1196.html>

---

From: Lee Olsen (paleocity_at_hotmail.com)

Date: 07/25/04

Date: 25 Jul 2004 09:05:35 -0700

Su Solomon <susol@zemail.com> wrote in message news:<41037FE9.6882@zemail.com>...

> Lee Olsen wrote:

>>

>> Philip Deitiker <Donevenask@worlnet.att.net> wrote in message news:<nzjMc.312666$Gx4.14085@bgtnsc04-news.ops.worldnet.att.net>...

>>> paleocity@hotmail.com (Lee Olsen) says in >>> news:40a73547.0407231630.4c8c3e79@posting.google.com:

>>>>

>>>>> And ..... seeings you are BIG into aquatcia-mania, >>>>> explain why the Tasmanias gave up eating fish from 3,000

>>>>> BP.

>>>>>

>>>>> Since they didn't give up eating fish, your question might >>>>> be kind of hard to answer.

>>>>

>>>> What is a Tasmanias?

>>>>

>>>>> It's anthrocia down-under jargon, verly few us us are able to translate.

>>>>>

>>>>> Like "verly"?

It's a typo. I meant to write verlee, like in Lee—me.

>

> Or, does this refer to: the number of Americans it takes to change a > light bulb?

Or the number of down-under anthros it takes to read a paper?