Quite frankly, I didn't think you had one, but you do seem to understand the terrorist mindset, although I still think you are full of it about divine wind pilots, and the fact remains that several of the highest ranking Nazis were believers in the occult, and were easily willing and capable of building on and inciting common German superstitions of the day.

The Islam terror connection is based Britain's gift of Palestine to the European Jewish community and the Palestinians outrage at first being colonized by the Poms, then given outright to a group of Europeans who intended to make it a (I would say blasphemous if I believed in such a thing) restoration of the ancestral Israel, without regard for the people who had lived there since the diaspora.
