

Re: Diverting attention from the real issues of hominid evolution

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.anthropology.paleo/2008-04/msg00332.html>

- From: Lee Olsen <paleocity@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 13 Apr 2008 18:52:52 -0700 (PDT)
-

On Apr 13, 5:47 pm, Day Brown <daybr...@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Wetloon believers are stupid stupid stupid.
Savanna believers are stupid stupid stupid.

This is rational discourse?

And your reply that adds to the irrational discourse is what?

So long as Verhaegin posts on this list, things are not likely to change.

On Apr 11, 7:36 pm, Marc Verhaegen <m_verhae...@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

– the SFs started insulting me

Message-ID: <1127516526.946017.266590@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

Jason Eshleman: "There is nothing to answer because you're asking for people to disprove the negative. If you weren't crazy, you'd realize that this is a pseudoscientific request. I also don't think you're honest else you'd realize that your requests HAVE been answered. That you pretend otherwise and persist instead with a diatribe where you regularly insult anyone who disagrees with you. Your behavior towards Lee, someone who actually took the time to try to engage you in a dialog where you've now taken to insulting him both blatantly and less blatantly in essentially all of your posts. The sum total is that below it all, you are not a good person. You are an antisocial dickhead who also happens to be a poor imposter of a scientist. Continue to call me "your boy" and continue to realize that you're acting like a sub-human piece of shit. You've earned the title."

Re: Diverting attention from the real issues of hominid evolution

<http://www.aquaticape.org/whataat.html>

Jim Moore:

"Marc Verhaegen now also often takes umbrage if you critique an AAT/H claim that he doesn't make himself. But then taking umbrage seems to be a specialty with him; his online method tends toward gratuitous insults, often as the sole content of his newsgroup posts, and continually reposting the same, non-responsive, paragraphs (earning him the nickname "macro-man" after the usual technique for doing that), and, starting from his very first online post in 1998, comparing his position to Wegener, Galileo, etc. These methods certainly don't help his argument, instead placing his online newsgroup contributions in the realm of the netloon."

Message-ID: <1124587943.511270.104860@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

Lason: "Hmm, you call out posters in subject lines as a rule. You repeat the same thing over and over and over again like a two-year old, and you constantly assert that you've shown something when you haven't. You insult people before ever interacting with them and call anyone who disagrees with you idiots/imbecil(e)s, and you have the audacity to call other people out for behaving like children?!? Shit and fall backwards, Marc. You're a psychopathic, delusional asshole."

Date: 20 Aug 2005 18:27:40 -0700

Marc Verhaegen wrote:

If you neglect that humans got a worse olfaction, a slower locomotion, a lot of SC fat, a naked skin, better breathing control etc.etc., yes, then there is nothing to answer... Keep hiding form the obvious fact, my little boy,

Jason: "I am not your "little boy," you ignorant moron. You've gone and done a lousy job of impersonating a human being, asshole."

.