NOSTRADAMUS QUATRAIN X72

–by Daniel Joseph Min

(word count 2137)

OF EVERYTHING which the great physician and prophet Nostradamus had ever written, by far, the single most famous (some would say infamous) item in his vast arsenal of prophecies is the quatrain numbered 10:72, which I've translated (interlinear) as follows:

C10Q72

L'an mil neuf cens nonante neuf sept mois,

The year thousand nine hundred ninety nine seventh month,

Du ciel viendra vn grand Roy d'effrayeur:

From heaven will come one grand King of terror:

Resusciter le grand Roy d'Angolmois,

To resuscitate the great King of Angolmois,

Auant apres Mars regner par bon–heur.

Before after Mars rules by good–fortune.

First question is, why did just about every Nostradamus student around the planet focus so obsessively on this one prophecy back during the Gregorian calendar year of 1999 AD? After all, Nosty (as we devotees oft–abbreviate his name) had committed many 100s of ominous and foreboding–some utterly terrifying–prophecies to paper in his lifetime. And not just in the quatrains, but his Epistle toward the ill–fated king Henry II of France forms the veritable time–line compendium which ties the chain of prophetic quatrains together, as even Nosty himself explicated. The Preface helps us to connect with it, i.e. in the spirit of prophecy, which is the testimony of Jesus [Rev. 19:10]. So why pick on this particular quatrain? For one, only a handful of his many prophecies give an explicit year (but not to the gentiles who only think it is explicit), this being one of them. That in itself is good reason for all the X72 hoopla back in 1999 AD. But consider the depth & scope of Nosty's profound insight into mans past and future, comprehending wholly of the present.

Nosty would've known full–well that the gentile masses would worry that "1999" was intended as a Roman calendar year. With all the hubbub back in 1999 AD, including the discomfortingly shadowy solar eclipse and "Y2K" scares, and much–anticipated two thousandth year of orthodox apocalyptic millenarianism, the collective momentum of Nosty–enthusiasts was brought to a fever pitch. Also, the quatrain plainly states that "from heaven will come one grand King of terror". If only on an unconscious level, the masses, share a collective inkling, a mutual feeling that this grand King who was cast down from heaven is something more than just a mere mortal "terrorist" and the like. At the very least, if this King is to be personified by an actual human being, then that individual must be destined to destroy the world, or he'll definitely try to and with Jehovah God's blessing. But for what purpose? Truly, this is a spiritual discussion, since not even by Michael the Archangel of Jupiter (the Illimitable Emperor of the Universe) dared accuse his heavenly father Saturn: who accuses mortal men ceaselessly both day and night, because men are ceaselessly unrighteous, even accusing Saturn the father of Jehovah God: who yet accuses the fallen, sinful man in his righteous indignation. See the difference? Saturn has just cause, but "fools rush in where angels fear to tread".

So you see, exactly what grand "King" (with a capital 'K') of terror comes from heaven? The capital K says it all: Kappa, Kaph, Saturn, Shaitan, Satan, the Scythe of JUDGMENT, hence "Judgment Day", the "Last Judgment", etc. We judicial astrologers know Satan best as the King of the Titans, Kronos, Father Time, whose heavenly father is Ouranos, the caelestial firmament of the Earth.

When Satan is unchained from the Abyss by his youngest son Jehovah, then Father Time reigns for "a little season" upon the Earth, and he is filled with the undiluted WRATH of the Gods, the three Furies. Thus Saturn knows that his time while cast down to the Earth is short–as he rises up from the dreadful Abyssal, in the same plane of seven–times, the sabbath of Hades, the seventh inferno where Zeus keeps his heavenly father Kronos imprisoned in Tartaros. Unloosed, Saturn thrusts his sharp Scythe upon the Earth, and he reaps the harvest of the Earth—even as the seventh seal is opened, even in that very hour. He is called in the Latin Exterminans, meaning, the Exterminator. Nothing ambiguous about that. Satan is here to EXTERMINATE.

Back in 1999, we made a world-wide collective-unconscious agreement that we should all be worried about Satan, the Scythe, the Grim Reaper, in the year 1999 AD. But remember what the Spirit of prophecy is saying. This is the spirit in which to read Nosty's prophecies.

1999 AD did see the second-darkest eclipse of all time on Friday August 13th at Land's End in the far south of England (the darkest was the crucifixion of Jesus Christ; i.e. not of the Sun, but of the SON of God). 1999 AD wrought the second-most tenebrific and difficult total solar eclipse ever to see, which occurred on the Mayan calendar Day of Destiny, which was Jesus' 2000th Hebrew lunisolar calendar birthday (i.e., the first day of his 2001st year, 1 Elul 5759, in the strict Hebrew sense). The keyword here is 2000 real-time calendar years. On that day, the Telegraph <http://www.telegraph.co.uk> posted this article, which I've redacted (.) to save space [ref. google archive <http://groups.google.com/groups?selm=37B42E66.63A3911A@tampabay.rr.com>, as the original link to this news URL is dead]:

"August 13, 1999

Astronomers baffled by dark streaks across sky

Astronomers are unable to explain a strange phenomenon which appeared in the sky just before and after the total eclipse.

Long, dark streaks across the sky baffled watchers, including people on the Channel Island of Alderney. BBC Radio Guernsey was inundated with calls yesterday morning from those who had witnessed them. One caller said she had taken a video recording, but when she watched the tape later, the streaks had vanished. (italics added by Min)

Prof Donald Lynden-Bell, an astronomer at Cambridge University, said the bands appeared at right angles to the direction of the Moon's shadow. He said: "It appeared to be a line across the sky and a darkening of the cloud about two fingers wide. It struck me as odd."

Prof Phil Charles, of Oxford University, said: "I was taking wide-angle pictures, looking with my 17mm lens, and I saw this dark band that went across a large fraction of the sky. It puzzled me because it was roughly perpendicular to the direction of the Moon's shadow."

Paul Sutherland, of the Society for Popular Astronomy, said: "It was very strange. I didn't know what they were and I have been an amateur astronomer for years." Some reported that the bands sank gradually downwards..

Nobody has ever reported seeing this in an eclipse."

[end quote]

Christ's own 2000 years of life are in direct reference to the book of Revelation [e.g., see 1000 + 1000 = 2000 years, Rev. 20:1-3]. Jesus, who was dead, and rose from the dead, is living at the right-hand of the Emperor of heaven into the ages of the ages. These years are ecclesiastical years measured from 1 Nisan to 1 Nisan, which is the spring-to-spring calendar of our reigning King of kings. Apollo exalts in the first house of morning, that of Ares-inferior, the self of the terrestrial body. That's why Apollo is always depicted at the top of the sidereal order of the Gods & their respective Muses of heaven, because the Sun verily holds them all together, and is the Power, the Strength, of Faith.

The exaltation in the first house of night, Nyx, is for Saturn, who is the Sun of Night. Libra is made by the superior conjoin of Venus, and it is the grand century of Venus (1151 years superior and inferior) which makes the 2300 years revealed to the prophet Daniel by the "wonderful numberer", i.e. the angel of Venus, whose character is Tau, reigning in the kingdom of Balance—the happiness of Satan.

That is the basis for the Battle of Armageddon being fought in heaven: the War of the Titans vs. the Olympians, the war of ten sidereal years of the ten planets (the sacred caelestial clock of prophecy), between souls who are exiting the Earth and souls who are returning to her, to loosely paraphrase Cayce. And we all know who wins that battle, and is winning that battle, and will win that battle. Jehovah defeats his father Satan. What? Satan begat Jehovah God Almighty? Yes, indeed he did. And Earth's caelestial firmament did begat Satan. Hence the Earth is Jehovah God's grandmother, and the Universe is Jehovah God's grandfather. But this is to speak of heavenly things.

Next, I quote from Jean Nicot's 1606 Thresor de la langue Françoise available on-line at <http://www.lib.uchicago.edu/efts/ARTFL/projects/dicos/TLF-NICOT>:

JN1606 *ANGOLESME, Aginum, Agnolisma, ville principale du pais d'Angoulmois en Guyenne...

The Germanic tribes (Angles, Saxons, Jutes) invaded England circa 5th–6th centuries AD, by which invasion the Anglo-Saxons were present at the Norman Conquest of England in 1066 AD.

The nickname "Black Prince" generally refers to any English Crown prince, but came into common usage centuries later in reference to the black-burnished metallic armor of Edward of Woodstock (crown prince of Edward III), whose occupation of Aquitaine & Gascony in S. France was from 1362–1371. A village named "Aignan" was the first home of the counts of Armagnac, with a most turbulent history—sacked by Edward verily the "Black Prince" in 1355. Under his reign, Edward's father Edward III gave him the duchy of Aquitaine, where the Black Prince Edward was sovereign from 1362 to 1371. Bordeaux was then the capital of a state aspiring towards independence, but heavy taxation upon the Aquitaine nobility was too much for them to bear, whence the Black Prince was forced to abandon his autonomous Guyenne.

In a recent study by Ann Wroe, 'A Fool and His Money: Life in a Divided Town in Fourteenth-Century France', pub 1995, of Rodez, Languedoc; reviews "during Hundred Years War...bubonic plague..divided by a walled frontier within...city ruled by Bishop, whose regime bled it white for the Cathedral, a 'sinkhole' for money begun in the late 13th century ...completed two hundred years later. Bourg taxed till it screamed by Count Jean I of Armagnac shakily allied to Charles V of France against Edward the 'Black Prince', ruler (i.e. sovereign) of Aquitaine" etc.

Saturn has forever been associated with the absence of light, ergo "black" (although Indigo or Indigo–Violet is closer to the mark, due to the universal ambience of light). Nostradamus was telling us that the human personification of Satan unchained at the end of the 2000 years would be English, more at American. You see that is the USA which finally does "destruction of all". The USA, even the leader of the USA, is verily the Exterminator. And why not? We have the military capacity to make it happen–moreso than any other nation on Earth, even China or Russia. We shook the world on August 6th & 9th of 1945. No other nuclear–armed nation on Earth since then has "dropped the big one". Think about that. We, the USA, were the first to invent it, we were the first to test it, and we were first to use it against enemy forces in a time of war. We certainly didn't want to use it. And we never wanted to kill innocent people. But our enemy gave us no other choice. Hence the blood is on their hands, not ours. We were merely defending ourselves. You see, we used the nuclear option in self–defense. And that's exactly why we'll use it again, but this time it's going to be measured in 100s of MEGATONS which will Exterminate key Islamic Jihadist targets around the world.

Finally, the fourth line of the quatrain, "before after Mars rules by good–fortune". This is Nosty's way of acknowledging that "in one [literal] hour Babylon is fallen". And also tells us that he's using the caelestial, archetypal, major arcana sense of astronomy to convey the positions of the planets. You see, Mars changes only barely in his caelestial position over just one hour of Earth–time. The good or superior aspect of Jupiter is the wheel of Fortune Sagittarius, in which Fortune exalts. Therefore Mars is ruling in Scorpio, the Sting of Death. The reign of Fortune is in Pisces, the Hanged Man, which is the inferior or "bad" ensign of Jupiter rushing forth, whereby Mars would need to be in Aries. In other words, Nosty's saying that at the time that this occurs, Mars is in Scorpio. The prefix "before after" emphasizes the extraordinarily brief duration of the event in question. I.e. the Terror of Satan unchained last but one hour.

The bottom line is that this year, the Gregorian calendar year 2004 AD, looks to be for "another reign of Saturn". The year 1999 seventh month is Ethanim, Tishri, in the prophetic Hebrew Moon–Sun–Earth calendar. The Grim Reaper is coming, the Destroyer of Worlds.
