Tom,

I have seen what David has posted. Have you checked the urls he has sent? David tries to make believe that 54 pages summery edited in A5 version is a book. That's not the case. It's either a pamphlet or an essay. But of course it's not an academic essay, they normally have more pages.

No excuse needed. It's he who should be asking Hu to forgive him(David) being so proposterous that he thought that his own summery would overweight Hu's study.

If David had had valid arguments he would have presented them. Up to now he hasn't presented one valid argument neither in KRS case nor in the Vinland Map case.

And btw. you all seem to have forgotten that we discussed a sea–chart from 1477 (with good provenance) the other year. Don't you ever read the full text of what I write and read the url:s I send? If you had you would have known that the New World' part from Nya Landet(Newfoundland) southward with those on the Vinland Map.
