

Re: Complementary info for my research re. Norumbega

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.archaeology/2004-09/2185.html>

From: David Johnson (trolleyfan_spamfree_at_earthlink.net)

Date: 09/18/04

Date: Sat, 18 Sep 2004 04:23:36 GMT

"Michael Kuettner" <miksbg@eunet.at> wrote in news:2r0viuF13k0efU1@uni-berlin.de:

>
> "I E Johansson" <ingerxjohanssonx@telia.com> schrieb im Newsbeitrag > news:r5p2d.103495$dP1.373024@newsc.telia.net...
[snip]
>> Most of them as images some I lost when I have >> had computer-crashes(more than one)
>
> A computer specialist who loses data because of a > computer crash ?

Well, not to defend Inger (or even bestow upon her any degree of competence in computers – or anything else...), even specialists lose data occasionally, trust me on this.

Of course, it's usually because you're absolutely convinced that you either never need that data again (which can't be the case as Inger is supposedly using this stuff – and it is never true anyway ;)), or that you're absolutely convinced it's backed up on the other set of tapes...

>> but all I have in printed versions. To
>
> Who does no backups but prints everything ?
> You're a moron.

Well, yes. I've got all my data backed up on at least two sets (alternately updated) of CDs*, on two computers (one at work, one at home), and some on thumb drives as I move it back and forth...and that's just for my personal website, don't ask how many backups I have for the server at work!

David

