Hello, what books do you recommend for finding accurate dimensions of sacred sites? I am thinking of temples and pyramids primarily but am open to other possibilities. I want to find useful desk references such as:

Fletcher, "History of Architecture"
Stierlin, "Encyclopedia of World Architecture"

The two best references I've found for dimensions of pyramids are, not surprisingly, Peter Tompkins' "Mysteries of Egypt" and "Mexican Mysteries"

Are there any others you could suggest?

Thanks and all the best for the holidays,

-Chris

(sorry for any duplication—but am finding such quality resources scarce)
