

Re: Who were the Olmecs

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.archaeology/2007-09/msg00383.html>

- From: rick_sobie@xxxxxxxxxxx
 - Date: Fri, 07 Sep 2007 03:11:55 -0700
-

So here is the weird part and I know my scientist friends will appreciate this. Sue comes into her own, when it is something to do with official family matters or affairs of state, then she is almost created to be there in that position.

Adriana would not feel comfortable in that position.

She would feel out of place.

She could do it, but she wouldn't enjoy it. And so that's the difference, where a person really just wants a place in a family where they feel comfortable by nature.

Even though on earth, Adriana would be the alpha female in our family, back home, Sue would be the alpha female in our family.

But if on earth, I had any other alpha female above Adriana, then that wouldn't work. Back home it works, because everyone is like in a structured part of society and their place is where they are comfortable and you fit into your place by your comfort level and your ability to fill that place, is what makes you comfortable being there.

It comes natural to you.

Sue knows my dad's side of the family and is of the same basic make-up. Same societal upbringing and all that.

So there is that whole huge societal pressure that would be on Adriana, that isn't on Sue. It just comes natural to Sue.

And things that come natural to you, are easy to do.

I don't know why on earth, everyone struggles to get somewhere, but it is almost always some sort of fame or fortune rather than just trying to find their place of comfort.

Anyways we are really happy together the bunch of us, and I wish everyone could be as happy in their own families and friendships as we are with each other. That's what it is all about. That's where you will find happiness.

So is Adriana a member of the galactic society and Sue a member of the universal society?

I suppose that's true, but if it wasn't for her, I probably wouldn't be here.

Avril is here from back home and we knew each other there and we still hang out together here, but just not in person.

And she is as comfortable here as she was there and a spoiled princess

Re: Who were the Olmecs

in both places.

And Devon would be comfortable in bot places as well.

I think Adriana would, but it would take a bit of getting used to because here she is a queen, and back home she would be a princess.

But being a princess is fun, so she even acts the princess here a lot of the time. But shes not fooling anyone because if they piss her off, its off with their head! lol Figureatively speaking of course.

And if Sue was here and I am led to believe she does come down on occasion then she would be just a scientist.

But then thats ok too, if you have great friends like we do.

Re: Who were the Olmecs