Of course it all goes on forever probably there are always people who exist to be contentious and in a state of war. Other reasonable people simply leave, and the remainder fester and breed true.

There are two solutions:

1/ Intermarriage; a method well known in Medieval times, used to combine warring provinces into a nation states. Of course it beggars all belief that one will see Hasidic Jews intermarrying with Muslim extremists and in the process merging Yahweh with Allah. Still, we dream on.

2/ Destruction of the contentious points. This would be more likely, because all it would take is the burying of several H-nukes far beneath the Jerusalem (an other) tells, and the simultaneous detonations of these would create depressions in the ground which could then be flooded by the Mediterranean. No more sacred rubble and no more bullshit.

There is another method (mine) which would involve adjusting the fecundity of these animals by compromising gamete fusion, with genetically engineered viruses, transmitted by especially bred mosquitoes (or sand fleas, or sacred-scroll silverfish et al), but whenever I suggest this most reasonable peace inducement I am set upon by virulent and malignant troll who infest this and other (especially SHM) newsgroups, and I stagger therefrom with my ankles severely bitten.
