It's obvious that no matter what I say, you're still going to disagree and I have neither the time nor the desire to convince you otherwise, even though I feel you're in the wrong by a large margin. So be it. It's plain that we would never be sitting on a board together making decisions, and then we wonder why very little progress is made in the government these days. Good luck with your pursuits. And when the boat sinks, I can't help but wonder whether or not you'll go down with it.*

Bye, Jon...please don't let the door hit you on the way out.
