What?? Oh, are you implying the original posting was a troll?

Okay, I'll bite. What makes you think he's qualified?

It may not be, but is that a fair summary of your remarks?

BTW, what emulator are you running on a G5?

That's twice that you've tried to make me the issue instead of addressing your knowledge of the inventory of Mac software I provided.

What's that about?

The subject is neither touchy nor me. The issue is available software for the Mac, and I still await evidence that you weren't just bloviating.

You can prove that for me by ignoring this post, my questions to you, or again dismissing it with a quip or three.
