

Re: Cartes du Ciel

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.astro.amateur/2004-08/0654.html>

From: Steve Sherman (smsherm_at_bellsouth.net)

Date: 08/04/04

Date: Wed, 04 Aug 2004 18:17:48 -0400

starlord wrote:

- > What you all missed, I had CdC working on THIS machine just 3 months ago
- > when I had the old hard drive running in it. That drive failed, I replaced
- > it with a bigger and faster hard drive. Did nothing to the OS nor the BIOS,
- > but the last time I installed CdC, the set up file had the old style setup
- > screen (like so many other programs). Now it has the look of things
- > written for windows xp and this is what happens:
- >
- > I shut down all extra files, virus protect, cd burner, popup, etc.
- >
- > I open screen to "Programs" (having already unzipped file)
- >
- > I double click on cdc setup.exe a small image appers on screen with a bar
- > that shows something being decomparessed or something, bar fills up, image
- > just sits there and nothing more is done.
- >
- > Now I'm not the greatest computer user, but I like to think that in the 23
- > years I've been a computer user, (starting with an T/S-1000, all my Ataris
- > and now these ram hog windows machines) that I've a level above total know
- > nothing.
- >
- >
- >

It will and does run on Windows 98!!! It does not require XP. I just downloaded it and loaded it into a 133MHZ Dell portable via a compactflash.

Try this: download the base package cdcbase.exe it is a self-install exe. execute it! If it runs -- down load the additional catalogs and install them.

Steve