Informative, thanks for taking time to post that. I probably should have posted my URLs <<http://www.davidillig.com/astronomy.shtml>> and <<http://www.davidillig.com/observatory14.shtml>>, but I thought that people here might be tired of seeing my site.

Anyway, I'm not a rank beginner, just someone who is trying to learn astrophotography but who is running up against the limitations of a particular LX200 fork mount.
