There has to be a way of doing this that removes objectivity and includes the all of the performance issues we want to hear...

It's called $$$$$$

I dont see anyone doing this for free, so for now the internet, and places like Cloudy Nights, and saa are the places to get a little something of what ya want.....

Co 7 is the closest to what ya want for the moment. And you do pay for it. (worth the peace of mind IMHO)
