

Re: Griffith Observatory

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.astro.amateur/2006-11/msg00034.html>

- From: Jim Klein <jameseklein@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 01 Nov 2006 02:12:07 GMT
-

No but it would make a pretty good B movie screen play and it is not any stranger than the crap that really went down there in the 60s and 70s.

:~)

Jim Klein

"Kickin' Ass and Takin' Names" <PopUlist349@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Jim Klein wrote:

There are a lot of really bad vibes at the G. O. and have been for many years.

Probably because of the worker's ghost that is burried in the building, during the cement pour of 1933. A worker disappeared during the original construction and the place has been in a state of unrest ever since.

There have been reports of hauntings, generally after 10 pm, on Monday nights since 1933. The City of L.A. has been covering it up ever since.

Krupp has been in contact with the Druids trying to get rid of the ghost but to no avail. There have been many reported "happenings" at the G. O. The place has been in a state of psychic unrest for many years.

Why do you think they closed it for so many years? It certainly was not to paint the place. There have been over 20 seers there trying to get rid of the evil spirits there. They finally gave up.

The observatory always closes at exactly 10 pm. This keeps the pubic from frinding out about the G. O.'s dark secrets.

On October 31, 1971 while I was the part time photographer, I personally saw the ghost in the hall of science. It floated above the Solar telescope window. It was very upset and it spoke to me. It was very scary.

Re: Griffith Observatory

I had a witness with me but she refuses to testify.

Jim the photographer, G. O. 1970–1975

Jim Klein <jameseklein@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Question,

If the directorship of the Los Angeles Griffith Observatoy is a civil service position, how did Ed Krupp get the job without ever taking a Civil Service Exam. ?

Maybe covering up for the petty theif who was the director before him, William (Billy Jerk) Kaufmann and becoming part of the Department of Parks and Recreation Treft Ring cover up had something to do with it ?
?

The city of LA spent 93 milliom dollars rebuilding the GO. The planetarium theater holds about 400 people per show. At $15.00 p