Tell you what, try this little experiment at home. Concentrate and pick a number. Add 2 to this number. Now, by carefully examining the result, you'll discover that it's exactly 2 greater than the original number. Wow. Try this with a few other numbers. The rule seems to apply every time! Spooky! This can only mean that Planet X will appear in exactly 2 years from now. (Assuming that you really really really want Planet X to appear in 2 years from now).

See the point? This is what numerology boils down to, when you peel off the red herrings.
