potent source of astronomy news relating to the City. And there is LOTS of astronomy stuff going on around New York! Since it revived on 28 September 2001 (it was interrupted by World Trade Center) NYSkies became the definitive forum and public record for matters bearing on home astronomy in and around New York.

Joining NYSkies is easy. Send an empty email to this Yahoo maillist at 'nysky-subscribe@yahoogroups.com'. Its posts are sent to you in your email and you post to it by email. It's that simple!

Or you may go to 'groups.yahoo.com/group/nysky'. If you are already signed up with Yahoo, you go and sign in and then 'join' NYSkies. If not, you have to go thru a silly 'registration' that's a oneshot chore, valid for all groups you may eventually join. The files area of NYSkies are accessible only thru the website.
