Bush said Saddam harbors terrorists.

In the past weeks Bush said Iran harbors terrorists and supplies them with weapons (of mass destruction).

Iran said they oppose violence in Iraq and believe in a peaceful resolution.

Republicans seek hard to prove things. The moment there is weakness they attack. Scientology does the same (through lawyer power) to get what they want.

One of the things Scientology got was the national anti-sect hotline. They harassed the organization until they went bankrupt, then Scientology drove them out of business through lawsuits, then bought it for $1.

"Google archives everybody". They want revenge with clear psychological indications of having inclinations to torture, as addicts of a cult that exerts what it claims some sort of a cultural domination (rights). Isn't that stupid? Rights will solve healthcare, yeah right. But human rights does mean something, but not to them. They have a place full of addicts. All their member-driven compound should NOT use genuine privacy tools that never compromise their privacy no matter what the external circumstances. Investing in protection-profitably is what the mafia did. Ridiculous interests. But so is mind-body control of power that it is, their cult of the future Earth. Iraq intended. They profile all activities as a business. They promote: 'the world is a dangerous place' so they do whatever a mob wants to do. Aside from mobs... Psycho cults. Psycho cults like Scientology. Scientology who force-purchased the national anti-sect hotline. As an addicted commercial entity, piracy and soliciting runs the anti-abuse department. Report sect harassments to Scientology. Report net abuse to Google. Report terrorism to Bush. Some people are really into it it seems. Taking advantage that is of an international territory and going full-territorial, supremacist (like Bush) and zone-acquisition-control, property management of humanity's cultural assets (full claim), people's private lives - full private acquisition of private and public properties insane Nazi piracy, the kkk fascism of the net, but then again, we have racist supremacist Bush to Model Roman Democrat Iraq and claims to (his) zone as an oilman. As a Model Roman Democracy he is erecting Iraq as a Model Roman Democracy in the region today, one that is a model for the whole Arab world, a country that is better than Arabs.

In all regards supremacy (embraced in the notion of Capitalism), cult-like treatment of state as private-owned, investing in mobility (energy/data transformation), unity federalistically embraced under a local God (as unifying force), but do mixing religion and politics, do acting as a radical fundamentalist, in all regards supremacy gone blatant and all-controlling, racism as Iraq is modeled as an ideal Roman Democracy by an ideal Roman Democracy, unilateralism with a military in 110 countries taking away all considerations to human rights, for the regime of power, for the cause that arose in the 20th century to be the winning regime that will take the course to the end as Hitler did, he stopped with his authority-driven war 2 hours before his capture by the Russians (not Americans) when he quietly got married and made up with his missing quiet elements before he as a gestapo shot his wife in the head just a minute after marrying her as she turned out to have some distant jewish relatives, then he shot himself, as she said: I was just kidding... heil Hitler. My Adolf.

Notice everything seems like a competition, even when its not. Its the bully's world, for example I had an idea for curing alz-heimers, I went to an alzheimers group, and immediately my theory was approached with OH PLEASE. I knew somebody close to me with Alzheimers. But the things I wrote about were not competition driven to be smarter than others in the group. This is what they call a troll-world, to me alien, and illegal in terms of human rights. It is not normal psychological behavior, but one is immediately discredited in Bush's world. One becomes 60 years old, twice my age, and he starts understanding Pinochet's world where Democracy is repressed by authoritarianism (higher authority complex at all times). In a Capitalist extreme, authoritarianism and competition takes over. It was in Crazy People (movie) where the psychologist lady was saying to a guy: This is not a competition when he was jumping to answer the question that he knows the answer to. One simply wants to talk about something.

1st Lt. Ehren Watada was jailed 6-8 years, arrested for making contempt toward other officials by speaking of the President and of the Iraq war. In the USA it is not allowed to do that. Nancy Pelosi, newly elected Democratic Speaker of the House called the President dangerous and in denial, a man wearing an invisible coat.

80-90 percent of Arabs now think negatively of Americans, while in the past Arabs thought positively of Americans according to a jewish study. Mass hatred, an authoritarian supremacy complex by the United States toward its political interests, authoritarianism is fascism, erecting Iraq as a model for the whole Arab world, a country better than Arabs is an illegal supremacy, but speaking of it is not allowed in the USA Authority–world (police, military in 110 countries, one is narrowed to a community and not to international politics). Those making Republican concerns are not jailed. The President and the Iraq war are general concerns and real humanitarian problems.

There is a humanitarian crime.

It relates to 'pay the dues to the King and shut up'.

When people should not shut up.

1st Lt. Ehren Watada was jailed 6–8 years for speaking of the President and of the Iraq war and thus making contempt toward other officials.

Those making Republican concerns are not jailed.

Nobody dares to speak when 80–90 percent of the Arabs now think negatively of Americans.

Pay the dues to the King and shut up is the power of the United States.

The streets belong to 'tax–payers' is the fascist mind.

Why? Because rights will not solve healthcare. They say it will.

Bush is a very dumb man.

Democracy should not be repressed.

Supremacy. World war.

Not only he does not see that Iraq is split and engaged in a daily warfare causing 40 thousand civilian deaths and rising, as a civil war, but he would not even close see that there is a world war.
(three big drum beats)

80–90 percent of Arabs now hate Americans. Mass hatred: kkk.

A war driven by superior rights (Bush/Schwarzenegger)
(three big drum beats)

Framing like a fascist kkk, first Saddam harbored terrorists, now Iran harbors terrorists.

Megalomaniacal supremacy (race). Osama did not attack the USA with the whole Arab world as Timothy McVeigh did not attack the USA with the whole American world. Extremism.
(three big drum beats)

Capitalism as a regime is now taken to the extreme as a liberation force, ignoring culture and international sovereignty. All individualism is killed off by a country's military operating in 110 countries and now listening to all phone calls while calling itself free and supreme over the world enemy. "Terrorists will not win war on terrorism."
(three slow big drum beats)

Undermining Democracy and the world by a supremacy in high power.

Godfather politics/loyalty took unilateral power with a supremacist eye as radical fundamentalism, as patrons of capitalism, as the future mind control super-power over all of the world's affairs, non-diplomatically setting eye and course, as radical fundamentalists against radical fundamentalists and moving ahead strictly sentimentally as a fascist state of power repressing human rights, Democracy, as well as embracing Democracy as power, one of a Model Roman Democracy, and not as a Western Human-Rights minded modern world. Barbarically, arrogantly, fascistly, the kkk of power set its mind over the world as regime.

The polit-dictatorship of a model roman democracy erecting by all means a model Arab democracy (of Iraq) for the crimes of osama and pushing the military even when the 3 soldiers of all other countries (even UK) was packing up and leaving this year from Iraq (not mentioning that Bush appointed a study group in November of 2006 to come up with the Iraq resolution and they reported that the Iraq war was grave and unrecoverable, and the best option is to pack up and leave, Bush's response was to send more troops). Sure Iraq and Iran are the world's second and fourth largest oil countries. Sure like a Scientology, Bush has gone fascist to get what he wants, by all his means. But it is a crimes against humanity in regards to corruption.

And sure all people who speak up like 1st Lt. Ehren Watada are repressed like under Pinochet. Ehren was arrested for speaking up about general concerns. He was labeled a deserter. Case closed. Either with us or against us, George Soros spoke up, but failed. And so did I. Humanity is not for sale.

When I told my grandmother about a Bush who likes to make wars, my 94 year old grandmother from Russia said: "Everybody hated Stalin. Yet he was around for 30 years."

I grew up in East Europe where water was free. I was shocked that in Capitalist countries they sell water in bottles. I didn't think that was normal. I thought water should be free. It makes sense if it is special water, like mineral water, but that was not the same as water.

Free competition is a very weird concept, but in many regards Capitalism is as fanatic and brainwashed as Communism, especially among the American patrons of the United States, where Capitalism is the must for all countries and they are religious extremists about what America is with military in 110 countries, listening to all phone calls in the world and calling it freedom. Like in Orwell's book, a movement gone big brother and only seeing the self and the world as a place of war. 80–90 percent of Arabs these days think negatively of Americans, while in the past Arabs thought positively of Americans. A Model Roman Democracy seeks to erect Iraq as a Model Roman Democracy, a model for the whole Arab world, a country better than what Patron Bush of the Capitalist Federalism sees over there. A Godfather and his mafia lives as blackmailers of Democracy, investing in a Model Roman Democracy, and reminding people if they are with Saddam and the terrorists or with the President, if they are flip floppers like Saddam or with the country, and the regime goes on unstopably, and as regime, uninterested in diplomacy and politics. 1st Lt. Ehren Watada was arrested and received 6–8 years in jail for speaking of the President and of the Iraq war. The President and the Iraq war are general concerns, after all now there is mass hatred with most Arabs hating Americans, and such a war is wrong. But those making Republican concerns are not jailed for making contempt toward other officials.

Competition is good, but sometimes things become symbolic as Kings today, and Democracy has become that repressed symbol. Bush said: Saddam harbors terrorists. Now he says Iran harbors terrorists and both the US and Iran were preparing for a war in the past two weeks. Not one Iraqi ever killed an American citizen when Bush took over Iraq. The Model Roman Democracy and its warships, slaves chained to their seats to row the ship into war.

Competition loses its' sense when some demand power and invest in barbaric mentalities as state and police representing political interests. Schwarzenegger refused to refute the death sentence of a man whose writings in jail were nominated for the Nobel Prize. Schwarzenegger claimed that the man did not show enough remorse for his crimes to the families of the victims. Europe blew up that this is barbaric, Schwarzenegger's home town renamed a stadium they named after the California Governor and ex–film star. Schwarzenegger cancelled his trip and did not go visit his home in Austria after this event.

In reality, say, she who is raped, the last she wants is for the rapist to come and make up. But Schwarzenegger expects prisoners to suffer, and to make up. In reality it doesn't make sense, one only sees eye for eye brutality and the prison–abuse mentality seen in America, by people who are obsessed with power, a human–rights–violating supremacy that describes American politics today, withdrawn and fascistly pursuing its own military politics (and tank government), but the result is supremacy and the whole world can see it.

But when a high price is mandated for all water, it becomes all forgotten like in the never–ending story. Life becomes something else. It was the first sign of world war II that people feared all dirt. Dust was believed to contain germs, and Germany began cleaning everything out of control, and Jewish people were caught in a fascist movement. Everything that is not supreme was killed. Handicapped people were ordered by Hitler to be killed and not live off of the society.

Today people fear drinking water, the USA probably has the cleanest water in the world, but people buy water in the store. The USA carries that exact mentality, Arabs are treated with the American supremacy exactly as Hitler treated jews. The USA is highly fascist, but not all are into Bush's hard–line.
