Abu Ghraib style possessively and murderously declining rights for supremacy).

History didn't help, nothing did, like Bush who declared as Hitler:
The course will be taken to the end, and you know what?

Am I being repressed? Did more than just net fun represents Google and the environment of stalkers and Google addicts? Or is this still too early and means a big laughter of a certain power nature.
"Hey Georgie boy..." like the perfect Bush: Hey Saddam boy, Saddam, I am coming to get you, (evil laugh follows, all American leaders vote 100 percent for war, and Bush is standing in the ovation showing himself off in self-recognition like Robert Dinero.)

And I have to learn:

Tell this to Ceausescu's brain, his secret police provides more information that he can handle himself in 30 departments as head, he is not interested. He sits, reads in his office. Outside in the hall people are standing still by the walls. Walls where policies are run, people edited, prosecuted for political crimes, a standard is understood by all as in North Korea where 100 percent of people wear two pins of their two great leaders bringing the faces of the government to every corner of the society without exception.

Re: Chances intelligence will loose on the long term on the NET.

He has no idea what I am talking about.

He sits and scratches his head: It must be some sort of a problem because it seems to be approaching, but we cannot fear. He is to be laughed at, taken apart, followed, and publically humiliated that upon first sight a government approach, a police state mentality that works, people will turn away from him, he will be destroyed. Him. A few simple moves, that's all it takes around here with those speaking of the intelligence services of Google.

The end battle is bloody. Ceausescu ordered to beat down any opposition to a remodeling project that strengthens Romania with it's power once and for all. All people are relocated to serve the industrial revolution, where all culture and humanitarian concerns are ignored. Only big brother will stand from now on, as all else is dangerous for the integrity of the society. A power like none before 'invested' that declares all villages will be wiped out, no more culture only industry and big brother, and Ceauseacu began wiping out the last drop of humanity in his country and dug down villages and began the relocation project. More than half of Romanians lived in villages with a 1000 year culture and history. Even military people were from villages. Upon massacres reminding of the Tianenmen square incident that broke out against resistance to the new plan of Ceausescu and the uprising broke out everywhere in Romania as the news of the bloody massacres began spreading, Romania arose, the top military commander of Ceausescu refused to cooperate, and Ceausescu fled, but was soon captured with his wife, instantly trialed (trial merely consisted of reading up the crimes against humanity) and executed without delay with his wife probably behind the court building.

You are pretty much a dictator if security describes all your government activities.

With respect to the 15 million people protesting around the world against the Iraq war and Bush responding: With all respect I decline as the priority of the United States is security.

So you know what? Dictator. Bloody psychopaths.

Guess what? Dictatorship. Psychos rule.

You have to use your psycho brain to parse this thread. Is that a molestation of a dictator?

And yes I solved black holes and dark matter. That's why I am here.

I don't ask you to solve black holes and dark matter. It took me 7 years of thinking. But you never posted anything in this group about science.

Re: Chances intelligence will loose on the long term on the NET.

Re: Chances intelligence will loose on the long term on the NET.

And I have a summa cum laude. And you are a fucking Kurd living in Germany. Beat their village heads with a hammer and fuck them alone. I am not like Bush to see all Kurds or Arabs as if Timothy McVeigh would have attacked with the whole American World. It can't be that low. But it is, in fact I have Kurds in my direct family, 5 little curly-haired kids (not Arabic). I know perfectly how Kurds are like.

People with knives. Not the kids.

So I went on the Internet and picked up a psycho who has kept my life in terror for years. He says he sees me as money. He ran web pages, hate campaigns on me for years, and I can't get rid of him. Every day I live in terror on what he will do to my privacy next.

I contacted the local police but it turned out he is in another country
(in Germany, so the police told me to contact the FBI.)

He dug up all my background, all my past online and using it as a threat against me. I told the police.

I do live in psychological dilemmas, a lot of effect, as he acts as THE GOOGLE KU KLUX KLAN, as Google acts as robbers, pirates, klan, supremacists, blackmailers, psychos, klan corporation with supremacist violations of me ever working there as a software engineer. A discrimination over-powers valid job conditions.

That company is not an equal opportunity employer, that company is a psycho.

One needs a real smart person to see the problem with Google, one may need to think of the Nixon Administration evesdropping on people and leaving office for being crooks (a mentality).

What is illegal about Google?

Poetically: No wonder he gives me one star on the net where people shouldn't profile others they don't know, and so stars are used to express a British parliament style agreement or disagreement.
(democracy)

But hey we have Google who profiles everybody and fucks at the world. And somebody awoke to this (that they profile all people online on open spaces, just like that).

Second: They are deluded (as that, as criminals). They went to acquire 15 million international books from libraries for profit, but did not check for copyright. Not only mass piracy took place, criminally invading book libraries is stolen work of art, as humanity is being criminally invaded,

as that stolen works of art is crimes against humanity.

After all the thinking (years), I see Google as more than a company with piracy problems. They are in violation of all privacy, culture, human dignity,
business properties, and live under a corporate slogan of 'youth', which means passionate piracy, robbery, and humiliating non-compromise wall of policies that with it's unbeatable and highly mean-worded provocative lawyers 'who have no shame' like a cult robs and discriminates for a living.

Discrimination. Piracy. Whoring people and businesses by claiming sponsorship is good (classic repression). Addictive madness. Known as the world's most arrogant company. But their crimes are real.
Their
mass piracy is real. If you can understand what I say here:

"No wonder he gives me one star on the net where people shouldn't profile others they don't know, and so stars are used to express a British parliament style agreement or disagreement. (democracy) But hey we have Google who profiles everybody and fucks at the world. And somebody awoke to this (that they profile all people online on open spaces, just like that, under that mentality of crime)."

You will see they are pirates. But crime is a crime with discrimination,
totalitarianism of pirates, robbery of art, and not caring about laws.

It is time they paid.

(Coincidentally, but I take it seriously of having fallen victim to stalking
[to the big world and Google battling privacy]).
