Cut the pompous bullshit. Did you see the images or not. If so what do you make of them. The reason I'm going to this group is because I want hear from the nay sayers. " Simple decency " what a crock. If you can't comment on the images bud out!

As far as this being an astronomy group ..... that's debatable.

No it isn't debatable. But your presence surely is.

You have well over 100,000 newsgroups at your disposal, amongst them a large number of groups interested in your stories. This is not one of them.

Simply act like a human being with a brain that seems to function and take it there. There's no reason why you should feel obliged to post here. It's a matter of simple decency.

Do you think you're exempted from decent behaviour simply because you're mentally retarded?

If your TV starts talking to you, take it to the newsgroup about the talking TV-people. You will be welcomed over there. If you want to discuss African art, take it to the newsgroup about African art. You will be welcomed over there.

If you see a poltergeist, have the decency to take it to the group with people happily debating poltergeists and ectoplasm. You're very welcome there.

Your freedom to post what you want does not mean limiting other people's freedom by harassing them with your unwelcome postings. That kind of behaviour is nowhere accepted in society. What gave you the idea it is
