Re: Google: "Fascistoid big brother elements", says European protester at HQ one comes to find a case of repression toward the society and life at large by a hard to define change that took course under the Capitalist hardcore that transforms the world into an apartment where rules are set, often admittedly unfairly but necessarily according to Bush.

Add: Lassie is dead, and he tells all children without healthcare that no welfare this Christmas. It would be a microscopic percent compared to the funding of the Iraq war to offer healthcare to millions of children.
This subject will likely be a major issue in the next election between Democrats and Republicans, but simply put, one cannot not see a place that radically deteriorated into those who set the rules and do not indiffer in human opinion and those who are as Democrats, allow it to be taken to catastrophic conditions of humanitarian and a war against dust begun as the first initiative to represent hate against all dirt and all things that remind of weakness. All

Add: This urge of setting restrictions on dogs comes from a unity of things sought to be accepted by the society, an unbreakable spell of how things are done elsewhere and as that here. Google too claims that others do piracy, so as that all things are normal in the court of law. But who is to ask one particular problem with having conditions set in the all-so-famous Republican 'piracy, supremacy and blackmail money' laundering scheme that went from something cold to something clearly bad in humanitarian regards of life as a whole, controlled by these urges to setting restrictions on dogs. Who is to argue that we ourselves are not dogs when it would come to court, but as a scale it would be a proof of the dog withing indeed needing such particular conditions as we are, similarly happy, sad, and easily in violation of conditions set on all as somewhat strict and unfair in terms of rules of acceptibilities barking the conditions of particular examples being present, so called rules that need coldness but in general respect, and unfairness a stereotypical side of the great regime we live in that believes in enslaving, downgrading proprietarianism that disregards the human spirit, while admitting Lassie was a bad idea that gives the bad idea to people and should be rated X in that regard of fantasies creating a wrong impression to people about life. The fashion among many Republicans is not to own a TV. President Bush hates television and does not have it on his ranch. The communit sees all things solved and engages as the greatest monster in his exemplification guidelines that are anything but Rome and everything as it's conditions set as examples that violate human rights.

Take Bush's existence from his ideal vision of Iraq as a model country.

A country that would be a leader in setting examples for other arabs one day, a country that would be like New Japan, a model for all Arab countries, a country better than Arabs under ultra-capitification and federalism promoting unity among similar states of ideals bound through power, designed as a supremacist form of capitalist management.

Brazil is another country that has a federalist constitution, and so does the USA basically. The American constitution is based on federal aspects and does not mention the word Democracy anywhere, although the USA is considered to be a Democracy and proclaims model in that regard for the world as a regime super-power. Russian President Putin said no country can proclaim itself as a model Democracy (it would be fascism and corruption (under racist guidelines unwelcome in our historical time), as well as no country can impose a model Democracy status on other countries, and that the American aggression is against the Russian character. Putin is trying to make very explicit points on the Iraq and Iran war. Also Putin clarified that Iran is at least two decades away from any missile and WMD development. Putin too struggles with incompatible ideas mixing intelligent and dramatically primitive sides by threatening US bases in East Europe that they may be blown to pieces by nuclear bombs of Russia if they keep on building up against Iran, and such buildups result in unwelcome wars under once again crazy sick fascist American president of totalitarian power).

Add: It is a culture that does not care about clarifying the facts, but relentlessly feeding fear based on the stereotypes and all are either provoking it, living the world war era mentality of setting necessary conditions of others alike on others, and are unable to disconnect from this reality, and others like Putin want to become equal level contenders and end up watching the USA responding as if he was air and continuing with all plans of building up the military defence in East Europe that for decades hated the presence of the sad iron curtain of the Soviet Empire and now submit to racist claims of a Capitalist dominatory liar and relentless supremacist, hence all want money and licking ass is one that pays in the West, rehardless of the cult-like practice of replacing general sides of things with one prescribed by all means as private control of power and in violation of Democratic and humanitarian and cultural interests. No, my psychopath online is not interested in say astronomy that brought my interest online, just as Bush is not interested in cultural interests in the country he occupies, but of his military and private interests. Just as Ceausescu was not interested in culture, history, and aimed to eradicate all villages in Romania for formulas of power that would have enriched Romania economically in a day basically, where in a few days machineries would dig down all villages after all people from villages are moved to designated cities in a relocation plan. Then on day 2 or 3, but not more overall than 6 days, all fields are taken over from villages by the government, and where once more than 50 percent of the population lived would be found a factory, a giant factory with police cameras everywhere running one business in a giant agriculture form and a police state and camera form

all people would get jobs. Ceausescu called his idea of industrialization one of American prospect where there are no villages, no interest for culture and empty endless farmlands would now rip away all things. Ceausescu adored the USA, which is all dictator's dream come true in achievement, manipulation and the inclination of citizen police taking full role in dictatorially patrolling the so called American Dream above world... fields. I can't find the word. Above world fields in cultural domination that extremely blindly ignores culture and replaces it with a culture of cruelty as model, as factory, as one inclined to police cameras and citizen policing and federal takeovers of the managements of all properties at cold scales unrecognizable in places where there is an old history and culture present. Where time is money, things won't stop to clarify an innocent until proven guilty aspect and all solutions are cruelty and classicism of us and them, others do it, it must be that then, no exceptions as in a big brother world and regime, the system must build in to all corners of the society with a curtain setting guidelines and as that things move quickly and predictably and no Lassie to the little girl, sorry. Daddy must make more money and find a better place to live in, and he can have one dog, and if he can move to an upper-middle class place, even two dogs, as set by the apartment rule of the city whose examples set are portrayed in all it's image, where the entrance reads out it's perfect place: Highlands Ranch, The Pride of Colorado. (managed in strict closed community fashion, though an official city, reserved, trademarked, controlled under unilateral rules making all akin by these property rules on what a city of pride represents, and all of course nicely protected with no cruising laws, all are undertaken in pride.)

Add: (and the rest (sarcastically) is just a ghetto where you don't want to be. I was told by Americans at work: 'Good luck', when I moved to Highlands Ranch. They said all people who moved here were molested with restrictive conditions, a 90 year old woman was taken to court because she didn't have her house repainted when ordered. Where rules are set as that, blindly and arrogantly, human values, the value of life becomes very low and all things militantly seek an opposing mentality to all things found in poverty and a must control of all those aspects through limiting people, their decisions through federalist beurocracy and a business perspective taking domination as exemplary and non-outstanding, gray, outlined, restricted, exclusive of culture and life as apartment groteskulization, policies, blinded unity, hatefulness).
