Well, he wrote quite a bit. Good stuff. Check it out.

Thanks Robert. You have said pretty much what I intended to say about analog/digital and about telos. Maybe I'll get around to reiterating and expanding my take on teleomatic/teleonomic at some point, but there doesn't seem to be any urgency.

It is important to realize that Dr. Wilkins is very much involved in the battle against the forces of darkness in "the other place". He does excellent work there, but like all soldiers, he sometimes forgets that back on the home front, life goes on and that the battle against darkness seems to us as more of a minor skirmish.

It is quite natural that Dr. Wilkins would sometimes become peeved with civilians whose "loose lips" might inadvertently give aid and comfort to the "enemy".
