I would suggest people don't follow this link. It may contain a virus, Trojan horse, worm or some other nastyware.

What link? The only link provided was the one in my signature – which is a link to my home page, and is appended to each of my posts, including this one.

[moderator's note: Yeah, Tim, but maybe YOU have nastyware! – JAH]

Re: the note – maybe I do. Nonetheless, a virus warning simply because a poster includes a link to their home page in their signature seems a bit OTT to me.

Usenet would drown in paranoia if everyone reacted like that ;–)
