

Re: Uncle Al has Asperger's syndrome

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.chem/2005-03/0942.html>

From: analyst (unlisted_at_due2spam.on.net)

Date: 03/19/05

Date: Sat, 19 Mar 2005 13:20:37 GMT

you sound like year 1 student with underprivileged background.
type that UA does not really like.

why don't you go out for a walk?

On 18 Mar 2005 04:01:37 -0800, "muha" <muhammar@hotmail.com> wrote:

*

*

*cwocwocwo@yahoo.co.uk wrote:

*

*Hi

*

*I'm a professional psychologist. I used to play with myself a lot *because I found it interesting – my mother told me not to do it because *I would hurt myself but I never listened. That's why I got this *profession.

*

*I have diagnosed the guy called Uncle Al as having Asperger's Syndrome.
*I do this a lot, even in my free time. I am expert in behavior science.
*I have succeeded in reducing all my patients to a set of circumstances.
*(I am helping them understand that they were victims and nothing was *their fault). I am also frequently advising human resource departments *on using Minesota Multiphasic for screening job applicants.

*

*Call for an appointment. I can make you borderline.