The same way they got them here in the USA – by force on a weaker people – so you want me to believe I need to go to the nearest indian reservation – there are a lot here in florida – that I need to go there and sign over my house and car and all my money – you are an idiot if you think that is ever going to happen – quit wasting your time trying to offer a solution to your personal greed to people who are never going to accept it – I am never going to go to the indian reservation and sign over my land and choose starvation and suicide – logans run is a movie you need to watch – see how people react to the ultimate conclusion of your society about getting rid of the non producers and thier control of resources.

<http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0074812/> – the producers getting it all and the non producers from tying up resources – You are a SANDMAN logan TERMINATE that RUNNER!

here is a trailer of the movie for you SANDMAN

There is an old version of logans run from the 70's and a new version coming out by bryan singer in 2005 – the guy that did the usual suspects – a classic film about the real evil in this world.

Look – your theory – as noble and benevolent as you may think it is – flies in the face of human instinct of survival – you are not going to walk down to the nearest indian reservation and sign over all you possess – why you advocate that for others is a hypocrisy and confuses people when you say one thing yet do another personally.

You are like Francis 7 in Logans Run – TERMINATE THE RUNNER!
