

Re: US dollar: modern history

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.econ/2004-07/0232.html>

From: Johnny Marcos (johnny5_at_yahoo.com)

Date: 07/05/04

Date: Mon, 05 Jul 2004 01:20:16 GMT

royls@telus.net wrote in news:40e84480.2700868@news.telus.net:

>> Roy L, the good of the many – advancement of the human species – that >> may be best served from a logans run type society
>
> ?? It's hard to see how.

I agree – so why do you advocate it – we need to protect our old – they were there for us when we were not productive – how about paying back the favor?

> Those who have volunteered to fight in just wars prove you wrong.

The difference being in logans run you voluntary choose to take the bullet at 30 for no real sacrifice, in war you have a chance of living and being a hero – as a lot of returning soldiers prove.

> I don't, and have never said anything remotely similar to that. What > have you been smoking?

Your rhetoric.

> Lie. It just puts the good of the majority of deserving individuals

Deserving? What you consider deserving and what the native american indians consider deserving and what the bushmen of africa consider deserving are very different I am sure. If you claim the native americans deserve thier land because we took it by force then give yours back to them, if you claim they were weaker and the more productive human took it then I think you and your family are weaker than me so where do you live so I can come get it off of you?

> above the privileges of an undeserving minority.

My mother is non productive, and my grandmother is non productive, there are lots of other old non productive people – the real estate payments are the only way they survive – are you so bitter with life you want to rob them of that now rather than wait for them to die a natural death and let it pass back to society? That makes you look like an ungrateful hypocrite to me – when you were a non productive little snotty nosed kid you got FREE resources for no work – and now the old people that gave you that society you want to rob that same priveledge from.

> Lie.

TRUTH.

> I don't know. The Net has changed the game by making it possible to > inform and educate very large numbers of people at almost no cost.

Ok, here is your chance, an opportunity to make a convert that will spread your word for you like the apostles did Jesus. When I was a little snotty kid, I didn't really produce much for society – my mom and dad and grandmom and granddad gave me presents and fed me as they did all us children collectively – and now they are old and non productive and the burden falls on me and the rest of us collectively to take care of them – but you are saying NO – fuck paying those taxes they need for drugs and food – take thier land they worked thier whole life to get and rent out now – let the old die from starvation and it makes you and your theories look very evil and unappreciative and hypocritical to me.

I am not going to support you taking away what my parents and grandparents need to live – they will die naturally without your help – no thanks.

> But it has likewise made it cheaper to misinform and deceive. One > thing is sure: we won't get to freedom, justice and prosperity by > acquiescing in a system that yields tryanny, injustice and stagnation.

I am sorry you feel my parents and grandparents and the rest of the folks that got here first don't deserve to hold on to the wealth because you and I are younger and stronger and can be more productive if we just take thier wealth and land and ss money from them – that is what the american colonists did to the indians and I will never support you doing that to my elderly – how do you sleep at night?