Belief fields are equivalent to neural networks through the statistical mechanics model. Given the possibility of telepathy, this means that we can form a metamind in a time span different from research and spreading of knowledge by publication. Since drugs can be triggers of telepathy by acting as rectifiers of the signal and/or antennas, these hypothesis must be tested even on ample segments of the population. The mechanism through which the signals are transmitted may be electromagnetic or even quantum, but further testing might prove it works in real time. This can give us the possibility to reach other multimind intelligences throughout the universe. The rewards of this facts, shown and tested, are such, that a research program should be started ASAP.

I asked for a billion dollar grant for this research but was most probably stolen by a Mexican mafia group, who then went and bribed/threatened as necessary people to keep me in sequestered and anomic in a homeless shelter. They want the prestige of my ideas without having the whole picture. I suffered several impersonations, doubles, while one man used a double entendre to make my works be registered under his name and now he wants to convince the world. Now I am kept sequestered in the streets accused of several CRIMES by a Mexican style life reinterpretation and an extradition under the charges of the crimes this individual and others have committed using my name. They are a powerful mafia who might have used the Home for All theory to get money and power by getting support from Real Estate billionaires and now have the po to engage in assassinations and other crimes (by using Leprechaun methods), to keep their power, while they exploit my work. I need help. I am in the capital of the cosmopolitan world. My name sounds like that of the one who was thrown to the lions and was unharmed though slavish. My surname means the opposite of mean and the opposite of lord, but it is in the language of the guy who went to hell and back in the middle of his life. Danilo Bonsignore must be able to be interpreted that way. The real criminal's denomination is a simple four letters name and the other denomination is like a multiple means of way from one place to another or tracts. Luis Bistrain must be able to be interpreted that way.

sci.econ: Masterminds

This posts may be channeled through one terminal to publish it before it appears i the usenet and have preference. This poeple must be stopped, with that uantity of money ncethe toy is spent (me) will become bored and dangerous.

If you get this message and notice any thing that does not match in the names I am in the big apple city, NY, like the other description. Call and make pressre in government and academy, but beware that many people were bribed. They are i danger too. Thank you. My eyes are the color opposite to the IR wae band, the caloric wave band. Thank you.
