

Re: A Question about LVT

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.econ/2006-05/msg00197.html>

- From: "Ron Peterson" <ron@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: 17 May 2006 13:19:30 -0700
-

Michael Scheltgen wrote:

How do you sell something like this -- the same way they sold slavery abolishment in the southern United States? Or is there a way to implement some of these ideas slowly and nonviolently?

The way to implement a LVT is to exempt structures from the property tax. In my state they use a concept called use value tax as a substitute for property tax to give farmers a lower tax on their land. I think that the small farmers would be better off with a lower tax on their residence and buildings compared to the large corporate farms that are mostly pure land.

--
Ron