"I" am not claiming this myself – but given how many can be lead to think at times, I often wonder about Christ's words of people eating his flesh, drinking his blood – when doing what is it – Communion? That is weird. Why would he say such things? I'm sure there was other ways to state the fact of being as one with him – just in "prayer" – "deeds" and other similar things alone – would have sufficed. Did he have a fetish of being devoured? WHY all "men" around him? Some claim he was married, according to most religions – he never was. Too many questions – not enough "solid" answers to make claims or to want to commit to said sort of religions.

Loaf Christi and Blood. Which is actually the Earth and Water, of the Earth.

Fire is in our petrol tank and Air is somehow parted with Jew Religion, having Air as the First and Primary Element. Probably money...

That's the World, as an Christ, who is knowing and living on the World.

I can understand what you're saying – it just seems strange – a man who spoke in such strange ways and offers that up. As I said, it could have been stated a much better way that done. Sometimes I have to wonder if "he" was all he was supposed to be. Where he got some of his notions. The older I get, the less I want to believe.
