

Re: gEDA suite vs my creaky old Protel Client 3.5?

Re: gEDA suite vs my creaky old Protel Client 3.5?

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.cad/2005-05/msg00007.html>

- From: "Mike Rocket J. Squirrel Elliott" <j.michael.elliottAT@xx>
 - Date: Tue, 03 May 2005 06:50:56 -0700
-

On 5/2/2005 11:30 AM Tom Loredo wrote:

> Photoshop, Dreamweaver, Illustrator, UPS Worldship, Quickbooks, > Quicken . . . those are my major reasons to stick with WinXP. I'm a > > one-man show, not just an engineer.

Well, you can use all those under Mac OS X, and gEDA

<snip>

Well, I don't know if buying a Mac and re-buying all the apps I listed just to run gEDA is going to be much of a cost savings over updating my Protel 3.5 Client to the Latest. It is certainly a lot more expensive than just staying as-is.

--

Mike "Rocket J Squirrel" Elliott
71 Type 2: the Wonderbus
84 Westfalia: "Mellow Yellow (The Electrical Banana)"
KG6RCR
.