This is the whole point of the whole exercise. Remember Valentine Michael Smith? Thou Art God.

This is also the point – the Will not only is equipped to make these decisions, but has been since before there was even time, and has been ignored, denigrated, hated, killed, tortured, and compressed into solid matter in retribution for merely pointing out God's error. Well, infinite stupidity. But he's getting better now.

The point is, your will is in you now – it's the part that feels. Thinking simply is not enough to come up with the right answers.

And I think the most off-putting concept of all, to those who think that their thoughts are all there is, is the fact that God lives in your own personal asshole.

Reintegrate, huh? Do you mean, evaporate back into undifferentiated white on white on white pure electric spirit, killing yet another Will Body?

Well, I'm pretty sure that the spirits who refuse to heal and recover their own Will in this lifetime, now, will not be allowed to reincarnate to continue their denial of Mother.

Yeah – heh. "Day-to-day survival." Have you ever actually been hungry? I _know_ that my day-to-day survival is ensured, because I know how to find food. _That's_ how fundamental "survival" is. And there are beings who aren't surviving, and it has just recently come into consciousness that it is not Will's own fault that she's in pain. It is entirely Spirit's responsibility, and I've been sent to sound Gabriel's Horn. Heal Thyself.

I think there's a much bigger and more interesting story. I really wish I could talk somebody into at least visiting that web site I've been plugging, and hopefully, poking around: <http://www.godchannel.com> – what harm could it do?

You're still talking about yourself in the third person. :-)

Well, at least thank you for this. And I think Mother thanks you as well.

And seriously thank you for acknowledging that she can handle her job better than intellect can handle that same job. :-)

OK, you just haven't accessed that higher dimension yet, where all is one and everything maps onto everything else, and all that. There are, in fact, separate beings – the separation was necessary so that God could have peers, when we learn our way back – but it has been painful for Will, and this pain needs to be healed no matter what.

Here's a thought – are your carbon atoms the same as mine?
