If they do interact, then that must either mean that some things inside our universe (those miracles) are not bound by the laws of our universe, or that those interactions are bound by these laws.

Origins aside, do you believe that there are things inside our universe that are not bound by its laws ?

If you can't argue using logic, and arguing by necessity uses logic, then you can't argue, period.

Do you believe it is possible to argue without using logic ?
