Aww, we ain't friends, and your responses won't win any prizes for debating. In fact, you have yet to reply with anything beyond a dopey quote. Debating? Anytime my 'friend' any time.

Heck, you didn't even pick no my spelling :-) It should have been written "you're such an asshole"

It would help if you posted just what you do think, rather than just throwing out a silly quote every time anyone posted a message you are not able to deal with, or think clearly on. Explain why you do that, when it would be just as easy for anyone on the other side of it, to find a quote that they think applies, and just keep posting it. Don't talk about debate, when you don't even participate.

When you posted a denigrating remark about me, I replied and all you chose to offer was some standard, off the shelf quote from someone else. So far, all you have ever said on this whole topic is that phony quote, and "you are dead wrong" Hardly words to win a debate with, and certainly not even worthy of your tombstone. I'm not wrong, I am quite right about the issue.

I said that I am learning from people on this list. Its just that you are teaching all the wrong lessons.

Have a good day.
