Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052

Source: http://sci.tech−archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2005−07/msg01155.html

- From: kensmith@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxx (Ken Smith)
- Date: Sat, 9 Jul 2005 14:49:05 +0000 (UTC)

In article <dao5h2$479$1@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>,
Brian Clark <nospam@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

[... trouble getting ADC to work ...]
>What ADC are you using, I've tended to interface to external ones in the >past for simple battery monitoring etc. Only dead basic ones like 8−bit >AD08831 that are SPI or I2C. Be interested to hear what other people are >using − often word of mouth is how a good chip gets known.

The Cygnal micros have built in ADCs. The F120 has an 8 bitter and a 12 bitter. Currently, the 8 bitter is giving me better numbers than the 12.

−−
−−
kensmith@xxxxxxxxx forging knowledge

.

- References:
  - ♦ Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052
    - ◊ From: Brian Clark
  - ♦ Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052
    - ◊ From: Ken Smith
  - ♦ Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052
    - ◊ From: Brian Clark

- Prev by Date: Re: High speed, high voltage amplifier for cap. load
- Next by Date: Re: Software Patents defeated in Europe
- Previous by thread: Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052
- Next by thread: Re: 8051 Development Board / 89C51 / MCS51 / 8052
- Index(es):
  - ♦ Date
  - ♦ Thread