The US is a spacefaring nation once again! I saw the launch live on TeeVee. It was spectacular, as usual, and the anticipation was electric in the air. When they hit orbit, it was as if the country breathed a collective sigh of relief – very much like the feeling the other day when I finally got the viruses cleaned out of the computer and the software works flawlessly once again.

Now, THIS is the kind of stuff that Americans deserve to be proud of!

God Bless America!
Rich
