Unfortunately the "mainstream" media is radical left wing :-(

If you listen exclusively to CNN and Air America you DO lose the ability to think for yourself.

What an idiotic thing to say, about CNN anyway. They were

"boots on the ground" before anyone else and they covered it non-stop 24-7. When FEMA director Michael Brown said "We've provided food to the people at the Convention Center so that they've gotten at least one, if not two meals, every single day," I knew that was wrong, wrong, wrong! because I had watched CNN's agonizing multiple on-the-spot interviews to the contrary hour after hour for preceding days. Either all the people CNN had interviewed lied, plus CNN's reporters, or FEMA's Michael Brown lied. It's one or the other. You didn't recognize that lie, of course, because you won't watch CNN's on-the-spot "left-wing" reports, shit! And because you've got to believe and hold dear everything that comes out of any old Bush-administration mouth. Just who is being a hopeless dupe?

CNN is a right-wing self-aggrandizing joke. Do you really believe FEMA knew about the Convention Center and did not act. They only know what the locals tell them- and any news source or non-official information they receive must be confirmed first- they cannot run around like headless chickens acting on every single rumor.

Rumours... eg eye witness testimony from the place itself.
