Don't you believe it!

The BBC's 'opinion' is under the strict control of the British Government. Which means at present it is pro-American, anti-Russian, anti-Chinese, and neutral Indian. It is achieved by appropriate appointment of senior and lower-order staff.

Was not the Director General (or whatever he is called), together with a news-commentator, immediately sacked following the apparent suicide of the British "Weapons of Mass-destruction" inspector.

The BBC no longer owns any radio transmitters. Lady Margarete quietly sold them off.

The new owners no longer beam BBC radio transmissions to the USA. Programs are now receivable via the Internet and can be more easily monitored and controlled.
