The phone is not my own and the landlord has chopped and changed suppliers.

The last one which he is with at the moment went and registered the number with the thing that says 'Don't Phone To Sell'.....

That is a pretty clever move on their part.....

As I explained to the last Indian Girly that phoned.

"Excuse me, if you check the relevant authority then you will find that this number is whitelisted for cold calling"

"Mingle mingle Sir, Your number is on our database"

"That is not my problem, you should check the relevant database and update your records. At the moment you are committing an offence by calling this number and offering unsolicited services"

Silence

"I am sorry Sir" Click

DNA

Hey, I just sent 400 spams by hand to promote my E-Bay sale.....

Roast Spuds, Veggies and Sausages for Me..... WITH GRAVY.
