You are not required to read and respond to every bit of fluff commentary any old joe blow idiot chooses to post to your thread. It is understood that USENET is loaded with sociopathic individuals of congenitally diminished mental capacity, posers, psychopaths, delusional schizoids, wannabes, psychopathic narcissists (you know who you are:-), egomaniacs (you know who you are:-), and innumerable other categories of discard along the same vein ( you know who you are:-). Most of these people are affectionately known as "characters." The keywords are unmoderated *public* forum, so get over it or go find a seriously and responsibly *moderated* NG.

I prefer the term "eccentric" ;-)

Though I do recall dressing up in a tux one time and my daughters aged 9 and 6 at the time allowed as how Dad looked "extinguished" ;-)
