

Re: PsychTest

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2006-03/msg02537.html>

---

- From: "Leon" <leon.heller@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: 19 Mar 2006 10:45:34 -0800
-

Bob wrote:

What is the wallpaper on your desktop? It's like handwriting analysis. Quite telling. :-]

None. I view a computer as a tool not an entertainment device. I prefer having whatever small amount of computer resources it takes to display a desktop picture used by my applications instead. The desktop is covered with files I'm working on and is covered by programs almost all the time the computer is on. If I want to look at an image frequently I'll print it out and stick it on the wall.

I also prefer my sci newsgroups on topic and not containing retarded threads like this.

Bob

Me as well, I just have the standard blue background. I find anything else distracting.

Leon

.