

Re: 555; was: Re: Who is your favourite electronics guru?

Re: 555; was: Re: Who is your favourite electronics guru?

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2006-08/msg03086.html>

- From: John Woodgate <jmw@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 16 Aug 2006 07:02:19 +0100
-

In message <d4p4e2p8bqogh8plmsumm4oq51u7vqsgp@xxxxxxx>, dated Tue, 15 Aug 2006, John Fields <jfields@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> writes

Well, I can't disagree with that. It should have been an 'are' instead of a 'do',

I don't agree; it's a case where it's quite OK in English to use the 'generic' verb 'do'.

But haven't you exhausted this spat?

--

OOO – Own Opinions Only. Try www.jmwa.demon.co.uk and www.isce.org.uk
2006 is YMMVI– Your mileage may vary immensely.

John Woodgate, J M Woodgate and Associates, Rayleigh, Essex UK

.