But your site IS rather bland ;-)

Yep, got to spice it up some. But that needs time, ideas, more time, and my arts skills are not that great. Hiring someone for that is an option but then again when I see what has become of sites where they did hire "web experts" I might keep it bland for a while ;-)

May I recommend my brother-in-law ?

He's very adept with code and knows all too well the usual flaws that sites exhibit.
