I could go on and on, but why don't you tell us what you don't like about our movies, OK?

IMO the US has a brilliant movie industry. Music industry is top notch as well.

Great effects too. In Notting Hill, Hugh Grant walks across a market. It's appears as one single camera shot, but it shows all the four seasons, from autumn, winter, spring, summer. It's so subtle, the first time I didn't even notice it.

Oops, www.imdb.com lists it as UK/US.

Sorry 'bout that ;)
