That's nothing.

I tried to notify them of a far more serious fraud attempt.

I even had the name and address in Nigeria plus the phone number being used in the UK

Did they give a fuck?

No, as usual you have completely missed the point. I am notifying you that these email addresses are misusing Paypal to violate the law.

Do you not receive ANY training or do you simply never read anything sent to you?

Dear XXXXXXXXXXXX,

Thank you for writing to PayPal with your concerns.

I can see from reading your email that you received a fraudulent email. Let me help you handle this situation. I am sending you information on how to deal with a fraudulent email.

We appreciate you bringing this suspicious email to our attention.

Commonly referred to as 'phishing', these emails are sent by fraudsters in an attempt to collect sensitive personal or financial information from the recipients. PayPal takes phishing threats seriously – our fraud prevention specialists are working 24/7 to help protect you and enable the community to stay safe.

After review, we can confirm that the email you received was not sent by PayPal. Any website which may be linked to this email is not authorized or used by PayPal.

Re: Shaved monkeys working overtime at PayPal

Our fraud prevention team is working to disable any website linked to this email. In the meantime, please do not enter any information into this website. If you have already done so, you should immediately log into your PayPal account and change your password, as well as your security questions and answers.
