Hi All,

Some friends and I have put together a website (www.onemillionauthors.com) through which we aim to produce 'the biggest book in the world'!

The idea is to ask anyone who has something to say to submit a sentence, poem, rant, saying or pretty much anything into the site.
After each 100,000 authors we are going to hopefully publish a book ... and then again with the next 100,000.

It may seem overly optimistic, but I'm pretty sure that at least a small percentage of the population has something to say, or would like to see their names in print, product advertised or an invention advertised ... so it seems like a good idea to us. Hopefully one day we'll have historians, sociologists, psychologist and any other
'ologists' reviewing the books and getting a glimpse into the mindset of people in 2007.

So .. if you fancy seeing your name or literary creations in print, check it out and submit a sentence!

I'd also appreciate any feedback .. so let me know what you think!

I think it's a stupid idea, but...

Geez, that all happens on sed anyway, so why don't you just harvest what happens here over any time frame you like, print it, bind it, and sell it?
