

Re: OT but still techy: Stupid Cell Phone Features

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2007-06/msg04019.html>

---

- From: Jim Yanik <jyanik@xxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: 30 Jun 2007 15:35:24 GMT
-

D from BC <myrealaddress@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote in news:b3fb83974bh366hc885e578dhqfd8jfi0h@xxxxxxxx:

I went to buy a new cell phone.

I asked the ~phone guy~, "I would gladly pay $100.00 extra for a phone where I can enter my monthly minute allowance (350 daytime Mon to Fri.) and see a minutes used countdown on the display.."

There was about 15 phones on display..
"I'm sorry sir...there are no phones with that feature.."

Fkn!! ..fkn!! @$@#@...10 zillion nearly useless features on these phones but a "save you money" feature.. Unbelievable..
Fk the camera
Fk the bluetooth
fk the mp3 player
piss on the phone cell browser piss on the fancy ringtones

I WANT MY "SAVE YOU MONEY" MINUTE TRACKING FEATURE.

Those sneaky cell phone providers..

What can I do?? :(
D from BC

my Moto C139 TracFone counts down the minutes I use.
It also displays the date they expire.

—
Jim Yanik
jyanik
at kua.net
.