

It would be good if you wouldn't click the SPAMmer's links (was: Cement Blocks)

It would be good if you wouldn't click the SPAMmer's links (was: Cement Blocks)

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2008-04/msg04105.html>

---

- From: JeffM <jeffm\_@xxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Fri, 25 Apr 2008 18:12:54 -0700 (PDT)
-

Anonymous Sender wrote:

This guy is trying to sell a bunch of cement blocks on Craigslist.
[SPAM link]

D from BC wrote:

Ha...ha..ha..ha....Right on!...

It would be nice if you recognized spammers more readily.

<http://groups.google.com/groups/search?q=metacolo+dizum&scoring=d&filter=0&num=100>

It would be even better if you didn't put money in their pockets by clicking their links.

<http://groups.google.com/groups/search?q=hipcow&scoring=d&filter=0&num=100>

dizum.com is the armpit of Usenet.

<http://groups.google.com/group/rec.music.opera/msg/011ea2d9d992b8b0?q=Q-Do-you-censor+Question.8+A.No+w>

.